ITEM 2 - GENERAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE BUSINESS

2.1 OVERVIEW

Saputo is one of the top ten dairy processors in the world, the largest in Canada, the third in Argentina and the fourth in Australia. In the US, Saputo ranks among the top three cheese producers and is one of the largest producers of extended shelf-life and cultured dairy products.

During fiscal 2014, the Company operated its business through three sectors, the Canada Sector, the USA Sector and the International Sector, which represented, respectively, 39.6%, 48.6% and 11.8% of the Company's total revenues. The Company operates in Canada, the US, Argentina and Australia through 55 manufacturing facilities and employs approximately 12,700 employees. The Company's products are sold in more than 40 countries.

2.2 HISTORY (INCLUDING ACQUISITIONS)

Unless otherwise specified in this section, the acquisitions completed by Saputo, which are listed below, were completed on a debt-free basis.

Mr. Emanuele (Lino) Saputo, Chairman of the Board of Saputo, founded the Company with his parents in 1954, producing quality cheese for the Italian community of Montréal.

Between 1970 and 1997, Saputo acquired several production operations and food distributors, and developed its national distribution network, positioning itself in Canada as a leading producer of mozzarella.

On October 15, 1997, the Company completed its initial public offering of 37,882,000 Common Shares at $4.25 per share. In December of the same year, Saputo issued 36,000,000 special warrants at $6.25 per warrant in order to finance an acquisition.

On January 21, 2014, Saputo established an operational footprint in Australia by acquiring control of Warrnambool pursuant to a takeover offer for all of its issued shares. Warrnambool is a public company listed on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX Code: WCB). As of February 12, 2014, the date that the Company's takeover offer closed, Saputo had acquired an interest of 87.92% of Warrnambool's shares (the "Warrnambool Acquisition"), for a total cash consideration of $450 million. The Warrnambool Acquisition was financed through a new $500 million term bank loan having a term of three years and the Company's existing bank loan.

On April 14, 2014, Saputo broadened its operational footprint in Atlantic Canada by acquiring the fluid milk activities of Scotsburn (the "Scotsburn Acquisition"), for a total cash consideration of $61 million.

The following table presents acquisitions completed by Saputo since its initial public offering. These acquisitions, which were in line with the Company's commitment to growth, contributed to making Saputo an important international dairy processor.

ITEM 3 - INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

3.1 REGULATORY ENVIRONMENT

The Company's production facilities are subject to laws and regulations at various government levels, including federal, state/provincial and municipal. These laws and regulations relate to the whole spectrum of food and beverage production, starting from reception of raw materials and ingredients to finished products, and cover matters such as product safety, quality, processing, content, composition, labelling, packaging and storage. They also cover matters relating to product logistics and distribution in respect of products manufactured by the Company and products manufactured by third parties that are handled by the Company. The Company also adheres to generally accepted norms and standards within the dairy processing industry. The Company's production facilities are subject to plant inspections by government authorities in order to ensure compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

3.2 MILK SUPPLY

In Canada, the dairy industry operates under a national milk supply management system. The objective of this system is to ensure that the overall supply of dairy products to the Canadian market is sufficient to meet consumer demand. This objective is met by a combination of regulating domestic milk production used for manufacturing dairy products in Canada and a quota system that effectively restricts imports and exports of dairy products to and from Canada.

Canadian milk production is allocated to processors based on provincial allocation rules for fluid milk (i.e., milk used to manufacture fluid milk products, such as table milk or cream intended for consumption in fluid forms) and a combination of federal and provincial allocation rules for industrial milk (i.e., milk used to manufacture all other dairy products, known as industrial dairy products, such as cheese, butter, ice cream and yogurt). The volume of industrial milk available for processing industrial dairy products is generally restricted in its growth. Notwithstanding the ongoing review of industrial milk allocation policies by the Canadian Dairy Commission and the various provincial milk marketing boards, Management believes that the risk of a processor losing a significant part of its currently available industrial milk allocation remains low. Fluid milk is available to processors “on demand”, such that, subject to available supply, processors are free to order all fluid milk necessary to meet their requirements. The price paid by processors for milk in Canada is regulated and depends on the class of dairy products manufactured.

In the US, milk pricing involves a wide variety of regulations based on public policy decisions. Some of these regulations include milk price supports, federal milk marketing orders, import restrictions, domestic and international food aid programs, state-level milk marketing programs and a multi-state milk pricing organization. Generally, milk pricing is regulated by milk marketing orders under federal jurisdiction, with the largest exception being California, which operates and regulates its own marketing order. In most cases, milk marketed to processors within the US is priced according to its use based on a class pricing structure. Under federal jurisdiction, minimum milk prices are set monthly by milk marketing orders based on product price formulas. Price data used in the federal formulas takes into account the wholesale prices of cheese, butter, dry whey and non-fat dry milk. This data is collected through surveys conducted by the Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. In California, the California Department of Food and Agriculture monitors prices for butter, cheese, powdered milk and whey traded on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange (“CME”), as well as considers economic factors that affect producers, processors and consumers, for the purpose of setting the minimum milk price to be paid by California processors, based on a class pricing structure reflecting milk usage.

US dairy processing plants are not limited in terms of the quantity of milk they can receive and are free to negotiate their milk supply with whomever they choose. Independent processors usually negotiate with local cooperatives or they may procure milk directly from individual farms. Processors are charged a price that reflects the current month’s milk class price plus a negotiated handling charge.

In Argentina and Australia, milk prices are negotiated between processors and producers. There are no limitations or restrictions as to the volume of milk that is produced and processed, nor is milk sold to processors within Argentina and Australia priced or classified according to its use. Moreover, processors are not limited regarding the volume of milk that they can purchase and are free to negotiate milk supply agreements with whomever they choose.

3.3 MARKETS

Market forces determine the prices at which the Company sells its products, generally as a result of negotiations between Saputo and its customers. In the US, pricing for the bulk of US cheese production is established on the basis of daily cash cheddar cheese trading on the CME plus a negotiated premium.

3.4 INTERNATIONAL TRADE

3.4.1 IMPORTS

Under the World Trade Organization (“WTO”) Agreement on Agriculture, Canada and the US are restricted regarding dairy products that can be imported. Imports within yearly access commitments are subject to low tariff rates, while imports over yearly access commitments are subject to prohibitively high tariff rates. Neither Argentina nor Australia is subject to similar import restrictions on foreign manufactured dairy products, although imports of dairy products into Argentina must be pre-approved by the government.

3.4.2 EXPORTS

Pursuant to the final decision rendered by the WTO in December 2002, which found that Canada’s dairy export practices constituted export subsidies, Canada is forced to export any quantity of milk products over its WTO commitments at prices based on Canada’s national raw milk prices. Such prices are well above international milk prices, thereby making exports of dairy products from Canada non-competitive. In Argentina, in order to ensure that domestic dairy product requirements are met, the government pre-approves the volume of certain dairy products destined to the export markets. Neither the US nor Australia imposes export restrictions on dairy products destined to international markets.

Management believes that the Company has adequate manufacturing capacity to meet current and near-term demand for its products. More specifically, during the last five fiscal years, Saputo incurred $739 million in capital expenditures. In fiscal 2014, the Company spent $224 million in capital expenditures and, in fiscal 2015, Saputo expects to incur capital expenditures of approximately $182 million.

With regards to depreciation expense, during the last five fiscal years, Saputo recorded $547 million in depreciation expense. In fiscal 2014, depreciation expense totalled $134 million and, in fiscal 2015, the Company expects to incur approximately $151 million in depreciation expense.

4.6 ENVIRONMENT

The Company has an environmental policy directed towards minimizing the environmental impact of all its activities, which promotes environmental awareness among employees and affirms the Company's commitment to pursue environmentally responsible business practices and seek continuous improvement in its environmental performance. The Company defines, reviews and updates its environmental objectives in order for its operations to be managed in compliance with applicable environmental laws and regulations, taking into consideration sound management. Among other measures to achieve its commitment under the policy, the Company provides training to employees in their environmental responsibilities, conducts regular environmental audits to confirm that the operations are managed in compliance with applicable environmental laws and regulations, the policy's objectives and principles of sound management, and adopts and applies programs and procedures which minimize the consequences of emergency events. Within each of its operating divisions, the Company has employees responsible for environmental matters and the application of the environmental policy.

The Company's environmental committee, which includes the Chief Executive Officer, the President and Chief Operating Officer, the President of each operating division and the senior manager in each division responsible for environmental matters, is responsible for overseeing the application of the environmental policy. The environmental committee meets quarterly to discuss the environmental condition of all Company facilities, the required action plans and the status of ongoing projects. A report is presented on a quarterly basis to the Audit Committee, which is responsible for risk management. The Chair of the environmental committee also meets annually with the Audit Committee to review the application of the environmental policy and the environmental performance of the Company's activities. Reference is made to Appendix A hereto for the Audit Committee's Mandate.

The Company's global operations are subject to various federal, provincial, state, municipal and local laws and regulations relating to environmental protection. Its facilities generally operate under wastewater discharge permits issued under these laws and regulations or have entered into wastewater discharge agreements with local municipalities. Compliance with these laws, regulations, permits and agreements require the Company to incur expenses and to monitor its operations on an ongoing basis. The Company believes that its operations are in compliance in all material respects with the requirements of its permits and agreements, and with currently applicable environmental laws and regulations, except as discussed below. It is the Company's intention to comply with all applicable environmental laws and regulations, including all permit requirements and agreements with municipalities.

Exceedances in wastewater generated by some Company facilities over the limits prescribed in applicable laws, wastewater discharge permits or agreements with municipalities have been registered in the past and in some recent samplings. At such facilities, the Company has been implementing various measures to reduce wastewater at source and, at certain locations, has upgraded or is upgrading equipment to achieve compliance and prevent future incidents.

Through past acquisitions, the Company inherited historical contamination at some facilities. Most of these sites had been contaminated by former petroleum storage tanks. At each of these sites, the Company is either implementing proper remediation measures, overseeing their implementation by the responsible party or proceeding with additional investigations to determine if further action is required. In some cases, with the consent of governmental authorities, the Company continues to monitor the situation to confirm that no further action is required. The Company does not expect that major expenditures will be required to deal with the contamination at these facilities.

The Company stays apprised of new climate change legislation, has appropriate monitoring plans in place where required, and complies with the registration or reporting requirements currently applicable to some of its facilities. One of the Company's California facilities is currently subject to greenhouse gas emission reduction requirements, and has purchased all emission credits necessary to comply with the requirements for the 2014 calendar year.

During fiscal 2014, the Company spent approximately $8.5 million to comply with existing environmental laws and regulations and improve plant efficiencies to reduce noise and air emissions and wastewater discharge, to update or remove underground storage tanks, to address contamination issues and to improve wastewater treatment systems at a number of its facilities, plus approximately $121,000 for costs associated with obligations related to closed facilities. All amounts spent during fiscal 2014 are reflected in the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements included in the 2014 Annual Report. For fiscal 2015, Management estimates similar expenditures at approximately $12.3 million and $98,000, respectively. Management believes that compliance with currently applicable environmental protection requirements will not have a material effect on the Company's earnings or competitive position during fiscal 2015.

4.7 INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

As the Company is involved in the production, sale and distribution of food products, it relies on brand recognition and loyalty from its clientele, in addition to relying on the quality of its products. The Company focuses on certain established brands and believes that its trademarks are recognized by consumers for quality and reliability. Also, as innovation forms part of Saputo's growth strategy, new technologies, products and process optimization methods have been developed by the Company's research and development teams in recent years. In parallel, the approach to the protection of these assets has evolved, which may include patenting certain technologies when appropriate. Hence, Saputo takes, and intends to continue taking, appropriate measures to protect, maintain and enforce its intellectual property.

4.8 RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

The risks and uncertainties related to Saputo's operations are disclosed in the Company's Management's Discussion and Analysis contained in the 2014 Annual Report, under the heading "Risks and Uncertainties", and incorporated herein by reference.
